

QUENBY IANDIORIO

Touring throughout the western states as a musician, I experienced many different communities, but it wasn't until I got to south-central Montana that I decided to stay. Now I'm a proud homeowner, married to a 5th generation Montanan, and helping to raise his three children as they navigate the public school system. As your legislator, my focus would be on making sure our working families, and our community at large, get the most out of the taxes they pay, and ensuring that everyone has access to high quality education and health care.

As your legislator,

I will advocate for:

- Ensuring that public education is fully funded at the state level
- Making quality health care affordable for everyone
- Protecting open lands for ranchers, farmers and public use
- Promoting further development
